

TO BE BURIED TO-DAY

CAPT. EPPS'S FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE THIS AFTERNOON.

HIS DEATH CAUSES GREAT SORROW.

Many Friends Call to Look for the Last Time Upon the Face of the Popular Citizen—Action of City Officials—Letter from Prisoners.

All that is mortal of Captain Charles H. Epps, the popular City Sergeant, whose death carried sorrow to so many homes in this city and abroad, will be laid to rest in beautiful Hollywood this afternoon, and will be escorted by the grave by an imposing funeral cortege, in which the Richmond Light Infantry, the Masons, Knights Templar, and other orders to which the deceased belonged will take part.

The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock from the Grace-Street Baptist Tabernacle, and the service at the church will be conducted by Rev. Dr. William E. Hatcher. At the grave the Master of St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., will conduct the Masonic service.

THE PALL-BEARERS.
The pall-bearers will be as follows: Active—Messrs. H. M. Smith, Jr., Henry L. Valentine, Charles H. Phillips, Walter Christian, E. S. Ferneyhough, Lucian Thomas, Joseph R. Samuel, and Andrew Krouse.

Honorary—Judge Samuel E. Witt, Judge George L. Christian, Major B. F. Howard, Colonel R. O. James, Dr. George Ben Johnson, Dr. C. W. Brock, Colonel W. D. Chesterman, Messrs. Simon Sytle, T. L. Alfriend, E. Raab, Charles F. Taylor, James Craig, James N. Boyd, Watt Taylor, and W. J. McDowell.

The Blues will march with the body, as will also St. John's Lodge of Masons, with Richmond Commandery, No. 2, as their escort, and the police of the Third Precinct, Captain Epps's old command, will head the procession. The other organizations will ride in carriages. A salute will be fired at the grave by the Blues.

The Blues are ordered to assemble at their armory at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon. Pickett Camp, Confederate Veterans, has detailed the following members to attend the funeral, and they will meet at Smith's Hall at 3:30 o'clock: E. C. Richardson, T. J. Waller, Peter McCarty, and P. P. Winston. The following delegation, to represent Lee Camp, will assemble at their camp hall at the same hour: John E. Landon, Jr., Maxwell T. Clarke, William P. Smith, D. Hardy Pyle, D. Smith Redford, E. W. Martin, Gervais Storrs, and Joseph W. Thomas.

The Blues' Association will assemble at the tabernacle at 4 o'clock.

MANY VIEW THE REMAINS.
All during yesterday steams of people, friends of the deceased, called at his home, corner of Marshall and Adams streets, to take a last look at the face of the dead officer. The body, which was shrouded in the uniform which he wore when parading as a captain on General Phillips's staff, and encased in a handsome metallic casket, was exposed to view, and more than one was dropped upon the glass over the face, so natural, and yet so emaciated, by the many who viewed it.

The family of the deceased received a number of telegrams of sympathy from friends in all parts of the country, and the following letter, written by John Hesterford, a prisoner in the city jail, and signed by his associates there, was sent to Mr. Chamberlain Epps on April 17, 1897.

Dear Mr. Epps: The prisoners of the City Jail beg that you will accept on their behalf this humble tribute of love, sorrow, and respect for your late father, and permit it to be placed beside the costly flowers that doubtless will be, by more fortunate friends, presented on this sad occasion.

We realize only too well we have lost a true and fatherly friend, who never failed to offer an encouraging word or a helping hand to those who had stepped aside from the right way.

You mourn the loss of a loving father; the State, a brave soldier; the city of Richmond, a grand citizen, and none the less truly do we mourn the loss of a noble friend. So we beg that neither the humble tribute nor our sincere sympathy will be rejected, for we feel assured if his noble spirit, looking down from his home of rest, can in any way be made glad, it will be to see and know that those "loved and lost" he is still remembered by those who, while life remained, were confided to his humane care.

Praying that the Universal Father, who outlives associates where men live, will give you strength to endure and conquer your great grief, we remain, Your friends in sorrow,

CITY JAIL PRISONERS.
Accompanying this letter is a cross of red and white, made by one of the prisoners, which was placed at the foot of the casket.

CITY OFFICERS MEET.
At noon yesterday the city officers and employees met in the office of Mayor Taylor and took suitable action concerning the death of their popular associate. Mayor Taylor presided, and Mr. S. B. Jacobs recorded. Captain F. W. Cunningham, Judge E. C. Minor, and Mr. E. C. Richardson, D. C. Richardson, and Charles H. Phillips were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions, and they reported the following, which was adopted:

"That the officers and employees of the city, learning of the death of our late associate and friend, Captain Charles H. Epps, have assembled to express our natural grief at the departure of a good man, and to hereby attest the many virtues of our departed friend, and of bearing witness to his faithfulness as a citizen, as a soldier, and as an officer of the government. That we rejoice that he was able to illustrate in his life the virtues which endear the father to his child, the husband to his wife, friend to friend, and the citizen to his fellow-citizens.

"That we bear, with sorrowful testimony to his kindness of heart and to the faithfulness of his friendships, and regret unforgotten that we have now lost for all time the comfort of his presence and example."

"That we tender to his sorely afflicted widow and children our sincere sympathies, and what comfort we can convey by exhorting them to dwell upon all that was lovely in their departed loved one, who surely would not have them to sorrow as those who are without hope."

"That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to his family and that they be published in the daily papers."

"That in testimony of our esteem and respect, we will attend his funeral in a body."

(Signed)
"F. W. CUNNINGHAM,
"E. C. MINOR,
"D. C. RICHARDSON,
"CHARLES H. PHILLIPS,
"CARLTON MCCARTHY."
"Committee."

Judge E. C. Minor was appointed to request the Judge of the Hustings Court to spread these resolutions on the records of his court.

The officers will assemble at the City Hall this afternoon at 5 o'clock to attend the funeral in a body.

to the grave by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.
The funeral took place from St. Paul's church at 3 o'clock, and the sanctuary was crowded to the doors. The casket, when borne in by the pall-bearers, was covered with flowers of almost every variety, and the honorary pall-bearers, the vestry of St. Paul's church, who preceded the body down the aisle, all wore handsome floral designs.
The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Hartley Carmichael, assisted by Rev. R. A. Goodwin, rector of St. John's church. The funeral was attended by the faculty, adjunct faculty, and entire body of students of the Medical College of Virginia, and these, in carriages, followed the remains to the grave. The Board of Managers of the Old Dominion Hospital also attended the service at the church, assembling in the lecture-room and entering the main auditorium in a body.

A LITTLE BOY RUNS AWAY.

John Bolton Missing Since Tuesday and His Mother Very Unhappy.

John Bolton, a boy of 12 years, in a frenzy of fear at an impending whipping, ran away from the home of his widowed mother, at No. 1222 north Seventh street, last Tuesday, and has not since been heard of. The mother is distracted with grief, and her physician says she is on the verge of collapse. She has not slept since the boy left home, and spends her time by the windows of her home watching for the wanderer's return.

Little John Bolton has, until recently, been quite an exemplary boy. He has helped his mother in many ways, and has even shared many of her griefs over the difficulties incident to a single-handed struggle for existence with a family of little ones. A short time ago the lad, impelled by a desire to help his mother, began to sell papers on the street. The traffic had a perverse effect on his impetuous nature. He became difficult to control, as he was not accustomed to swimming and fishing. This theory seems to be groundless, however, from the testimony of a small negro, who declares that he saw John playing baseball last Wednesday.

Mrs. Bolton is more than willing to let bygones be bygones if the boy will only return home. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and a sharp lookout is being kept in all directions.

THE T. P. A. STATE CONVENTION.

Matters Affecting Arrangements Discussed by Post A.

The monthly meeting of the Travellers' Protective Association, Post "A," was held at their rooms last night. The "boys" were very enthusiastic over their coming State convention. The Committee of Arrangements have made all preparations for an entertainment for the delegates attending the convention, which meets in this city Saturday, May 1st, beginning at 10 o'clock. It was decided to send invitations to each member of the post at the same time requesting him to notify the secretary (D. B. Waltheil) at once whether or not they expect to be present, as it is important for this information to be received in order to make proper arrangements can be made. A number of prominent business and professional men will be among the invited guests. The Committee of Arrangements are Messrs. C. W. Saunders, John B. Mulpler, H. Ellis, Jr., J. H. Capers, Jr., Joseph Wallerstein, and R. S. Christian.

Mr. R. S. Christian, from the committee on the clothing manufacturing enterprise, read several papers bearing on the subject, and addressed the meeting as to the feasibility of the enterprise, stating why steps should be taken to start the manufacture of clothing here at once.

There will be another meeting of the post next Friday night at 8 o'clock, April 24th, to make final arrangements for the State convention.

TO BUILD THE LIBRARY NOW.

Work Soon to Begin on This Building in Seminary Group.

The Building Committee of Union Theological Seminary held a meeting in the office of Architect Charles H. Reed, Jr., Friday afternoon, without delay with the creation of the Seminary Library, in the seminary group. The $25,000 with which to pay for this building is the gift of Mr. Spence, of Baltimore.

The bids, which were opened April 6th, were as follows: William G. Gibson, Jr., $24,550; A. C. Houston, $24,283; W. A. Chesterman, $23,698; N. E. Ancarrow, $23,590.

The decision of the committee was reserved until the architect shall have heard from outside bidders as to the cost of the fireproof steel construction and flooring beams, so as to see that the total cost of the building is brought within the $25,000.

Mr. Ancarrow, the lowest bidder, is the contractor for Watts Hall, the central building, on which satisfactory progress is being made.

STREET WORK IS SUSPENDED.

The Hands Laid Off and Mules Turned Out to Graze.

All of the hands employed in the Street Department of the city, with the exception of five or six, were laid off yesterday at noon and the mules were turned out in the pasture on the Clark's-Spring property.

This action was taken necessary by the lack of funds to keep the force of the department employed. All of the money allowed for hands and carts up to July 1st has been expended, and there was just enough yesterday to pay off the men.

It is expected that the Council will be called together within the next few days to consider the question of what shall be done in the matter of providing funds for keeping the carts and hands in the city. The few men retained will look after the city's stock and patch holes in the pavements.

FELL FROM A WINDOW.

Mr. Bishop Badly Shaken Up But Not Seriously Injured.

Mr. George D. Bishop, a telegraph operator in the employ of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, who boards at No. 1931-2 east Clay street, lost his balance and fell from a second-story window of his residence yesterday evening. He was picked up in an unconscious condition, and carried across to the Virginia Hospital.

An examination developed the remarkable fact that not a single bone in the man's body was broken, and as far as could be ascertained last night, his injuries do not extend further than some severe bruises and a general shaking up of his system.

Their Tribute to Captain Sneed.

The Board of Fire Commissioners have adopted resolutions expressive of their grief at the death of Captain Edmund T. Sneed, assistant engineer of the Fire Department. "We mourn him," they said, "as a friend, a fireman, and a worthy citizen who fulfilled the duties of life allotted him, and who was the plaudits. Well done, good and faithful servant." A memorial page on the minutes will be set apart to his memory.

TWO LATE NOW TO GO.

Walker Light Guard Will Not Attend the Grant Unveiling.

The Walker Light Guard (Company B, First Regiment) held an important meeting in their quarters, at the Armory, last night. Governor Black, of New York, who met the company in Washington upon the occasion of the inauguration of President McKinley, extended a cordial invitation to the Richmond boys to attend the unveiling of Grant's monument. Yesterday a telegram was received from General Carroll, Governor Black's staff, inviting the guard to go, and ensuring them comfortable quarters. It was decided, though, by an almost unanimous vote, that in view of the shortness of the trip and the preparation the company would abandon all idea of the New York trip. They will, however, shortly make arrangements for a week's encampment at the seashore.

Private R. O. Scott was appointed corporal, and the other corporals were advanced one step in place of Corporal Hunt, resigned.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the company to attend church as a body in the near future.

Mr. R. Fuller Gaskins, an old member of the guard, was elected president of the Walker Light Guard Association, and promised to enlist the sympathies and cooperation of all regimental members.

A committee of five was appointed to draw up a set of resolutions on the death of Sergeant Charles H. Epps, at one time a member of the company. The committee is composed of Lieutenants Miller, Sergeant Duebert, Sergeant Johnson, Privates Weckert and Alken, and will report the resolutions next Wednesday night.

The Old Dominion Guard (Company D) will celebrate their thirty-sixth anniversary on Wednesday next by a target practice in the afternoon and a banquet at night. This company decided at a recent meeting not to go to New York, but to Nashville instead.

Memorial Society Meeting.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society met at the Museum at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Minor occupied the chair, in the absence of Mrs. Joseph Bryan, the president of the society.

The object of the meeting was to distribute the five hundred tickets apportioned to the society for the entertainment known as "Scenes and Incidents of the Cuban War," which is shortly to be given at the Academy.

A Costly Battle.

As an outcome of the personal encounter and rock-battle between two small colored boys on Broad street yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock a missile went through one of the handsome plate-glass windows of the Globe store. This glass cost $20. Both boys, whose names are Thomas Thompson and Willie Jackson, were captured and taken to the Second Station. Willie Jackson was later bled.

Musical at Mr. Pace's Residence.

On Thursday next, from 6 to 10 o'clock, a musical will be given by the Junior Auxiliary of the Home for Incurables at the handsome residence of Mr. James B. Pace, corner of Adams and Franklin streets. The programme is in charge of Miss Bessie Pace, and the other arrangements will be looked after by some of Richmond's most popular and attractive society belles.

No Damage Done.

An alarm of fire was turned in from Box 64, at 12:37 o'clock this morning, caused by a slight blaze in the drugstore of Mr. John Gibney, on Second street between Clay and Leigh. The department responded promptly, and the fire was put out before damage of any consequence had been done.
